

Father Trey Ange, Deacon Samuel Orsot ordained

LAKE CHARLES -- Bishop Glen John Provost was the presiding prelate on Saturday, June 3, at the Mass of Ordination for a new priest for the Diocese of Lake Charles -- Rev. Sam A. "Trey" Ange III -- and a transitional deacon -- Deacon Samuel Orsot -- in the Cathedral of the Immaculate Conception.

At the conclusion of the liturgy, before the final blessing by Bishop Provost, Deacon George Stearns, diocesan chancellor, pronounced the pastoral changes for a number of diocesan parishes, including the first priestly assignment for Father Ange -- Parochial Vicar to Our Lady Queen of Heaven Catholic Church.

Father Ange celebrated a Mass of Thanksgiving on Sunday, June 4, at Our Lady of Good Counsel Catholic Church, coming full circle as Rev. Jeffrey Starkovich said in his homily, noting that Evette and Sam, the parents of the new priest and both Newman Club members in their college days, had met outside the church, which is the site of the Catholic Student Center -- then and now.

In his homily, Bishop Provost spoke about the three readings -- Acts, Chapter 10, 37-43; Second Corinthians 4: 1-2, 5-7; and the Gospel from John 17:6, 14-19.

"You know what has happened all over Judea." Acts 10:37

"These are the words of St. Peter to Cornelius and his household, Cornelius 'a centurion of the Cohort called the Italica,'" Bishop Provost said. "Cornelius, based with the Roman army in Caesarea, was probably an auxiliary from Italy in a mostly Syrian army. He was, therefore, a Gentile in Gentile company, listening to St. Peter. The Apostle's approach was gentle yet firm and clear; concluding with a proclamation of mercy--... everyone who believes in Jesus will receive forgiveness of sins through His Name." The result was conversion, the Holy Spirit descending on the Gentiles, including them in the marvelous work of redemption."

About the second reading, the Bishop said, "St. Paul reminds the Corinthians that the preachers of the Gospel 'do not preach themselves but Jesus Christ as Lord, and themselves as your slaves for the sake of Jesus'." Again St. Paul is gentle yet firm and clear about his role as a proclaimer of the Gospel message. Whatever power exists comes from God and not from the preacher.

"And then we, to come to the Gospel, the source of it all, to one of the most beautiful prayers in all the Sacred Scriptures," the Bishop continued. "Prayed at the Last Supper, Jesus addresses the Father. He has revealed the Father's name to those who 'do not belong to the world.' Reminiscent of the High Priest on the Jewish Day of Atonement, 'the blessing of the Lord would be upon his lips, the name of the Lord would be his glory.' 'I revealed Your Name,' Jesus says to the Father, a Name leading to consecration in the truth."

Continuing, Bishop Provost said, "This is a priestly prayer. We should not forget that fact. This prayer too is gentle, yet firm and clear. This priestly prayer from a priestly Word brings conversion to the Gentiles, encouragement to the weak of heart, clarity in the midst of deceit and falsification. It is a Word of mercy and a Word of truth--a priestly Word."

Addressing those to be ordained, he said, "Are you ready to participate in this ministry? The work to which the ordained clergy are called is not their own. It does not belong to them. The liturgy is not their personal possession. The doctrines they teach do not emerge from their genius. Nowhere in St. Paul or St. Peter or any of the Apostles or Evangelists do we ever detect any evidence of self. What they preach comes from the Lord. They are simply servants. Their work is not to discern meaning. Their duty is to witness to a message."

Nearing his conclusion, Bishop Provost said, "Humility is required of the ordained minister. He does not reinterpret the words of Jesus when they do not quite fit his agenda, however noble he might think that agenda to be. The Word of God is not to be dismissed or reinterpreted with the claim that tape recorders did not exist. His work is to witness the truth before this world's Cornelius, to the Corinthians who need reminders of their nothingness before God's power and mercy, and of the blinding glory of the Name revealed to those who 'hold this treasure in earthen vessels.'"

The complete text of Bishop Provost's homily can be found on the website of the Diocese -- lcdioocese.org -- under the banner heading -- The Bishop and then the homilies link.

Mass to Avert Storms draws crowd in Cameron

CAMERON -- Bishop Glen John Provost celebrated the annual Mass to Avert Storms on the Opening Day of the 2017 Hurricane Season on Thursday June 1, at the Historic Church and Shrine of Our Lady Star of the Sea with a large crowd of worshippers in attendance.

Concelebrants included pastors of the coastal churches, Father Clyde Thomas of St. Eugene Catholic Church in Grand Chenier; Father Gijo Ikkaramattom, H.G.N., of St. Peter the Apostle Catholic Church in Hackberry; Father Babasino Fernandes, pastor of Our Lady Star of the Sea and Sacred Heart of Jesus Catholic Church in Creole; and the Very Reverend Ruben Buller, Moderator of the Curia for the Diocese of Lake Charles. Seminarian Sam Bond, served as master of ceremonies for Bishop Provost.

At the conclusion of the liturgy, Bishop Provost led the procession to the Shrine outside the church for the final blessing and prayer to avert storms of all kinds.

The faithful who made this diocesan pilgrimage to the Shrine for the liturgy could receive spiritual benefits as if they had visited the Basilica of St. Mary Major in Rome, due to the special affiliation the Cameron church has with the Basilica. The pilgrimage provides a plenary indulgence with the fulfillment of certain requirements, including recent confession, reception of Holy Communion, prayers for the Holy Father, and the recitation of the Creed.

This "spiritual bond" was granted by His Eminence, Santos Cardinal Abril y Castelló, the Cardinal Archpriest of the Basilica and His Eminence, Emmanuel Cardinal Montero de Castro, the Cardinal Apostolic Penitentiary following Bishop Provost's ad limina visit in 2012.

Bishop Glen John Provost celebrated the annual Mass to Avert Storms on Thursday, June 1, at Our Lady Star of the Sea Catholic Church and Shrine in Cameron. Pastors of the coastal parishes - Father Clyde Thomas of St. Eugene Catholic Church in Grand Chenier, Father Gijo Ikkaramattom, H.G.N., of St. Peter the Apostle Catholic Church in Hackberry; and Father Babasino Fernandes, pastor of Our Lady Star of the Sea and Sacred Heart of Jesus Catholic Church in Creole, along with the Very Reverend Ruben Buller, Moderator of the Curia for the Diocese of Lake Charles, were concelebrants. Deacon Patrick Lapoint, director of the Stella Maris Seafarers Center at the Port of Lake Charles served Bishop Provost. Following the liturgy, the Bishop led the procession to the Historic Shrine and Statue of Mary - as Our Lady Star of the Sea - to pray that the area might be spared from hurricanes and all devastating storms. The service concluded with the Bishop leading the people in the Hurricane Prayer written by The Most Reverend Maurice Schexnayder, Second Bishop of Lafayette, following Hurricane Audrey in 1957.

REVEREND ALAN PIPER, O.P. ORDAINED

On May 20, Rev. Alan Piper, O.P., a Lake Charles native, was ordained to the Sacred Order of Priests of the Order of Friars Preachers, Province of St. Joseph, by The Most Reverend Joseph A. Di Noia, O.P., the Adjunct Secretary of the Congregation for the Doctrine of the Faith in St. Dominic's Church in Washington, DC. In the picture, the Archbishop lays hands on Father Piper, praying for an outpouring of the Holy Spirit on him. The oldest of four children of Robert and Eileen Piper, Father Piper was born in 1985, attended the Cathedral of the Immaculate Conception, earned a BA in philosophy and theology from the University of St. Thomas in Houston, Texas, and a Ph L from the School of Philosophy at the Catholic University of America in Washington, DC. Before entering the order in 2011, he taught at a high school in Manchester, New Hampshire. Father Piper returned to the Cathedral parish on Sunday, May 28, where he celebrated Mass.

Peter's Pence Collection July 1-2

WASHINGTON — The annual Peter's Pence collection will be taken in the Diocese of Lake Charles and many other dioceses across the United States the weekend of July 1-2. Funds from this collection support Pope Francis' charitable outreach to the suffering and marginalized around the world.

"The Peter's Pence collection is a tangible way to be a witness of the tenderness and mercy of God," said Archbishop Thomas J. Rodi of Mobile, Alabama, chairman of the USCCB Committee on National Collections. "We join our brothers and sisters in the United States and around the world to support Pope Francis as he cares for those most in need."

Prayer for Safety in Hurricane Season

The Most Reverend Glen John Provost, Bishop of Lake Charles, has asked that during the hurricane season of 2017 the people of the Diocese of Lake Charles pray the following prayer, composed in 1957 by The Most Reverend Maurice Schexnayder, Second Bishop of Lafayette, following Hurricane Audrey:

O God, Master of this passing world, hear the humble voices of your children.

The Sea of Galilee obeyed your order and returned to its former quietude.

You are still the Master of the land and sea. We live in the shadow of a danger over which we have no control: the Gulf, like a provoked and angry giant, can awake from its seeming lethargy, and overstep its conventional boundaries, invade our land and spread chaos and disaster.

During this hurricane season we turn to You, O loving Father. Spare us from past tragedies whose memories are still so vivid and whose wounds seem to refuse to heal with the passing of time. O Virgin, Star of the Sea, Our Beloved Mother, we ask you to plead with your Son on our behalf, so that spared from the calamities common to this area and animated with a true spirit of gratitude, we will walk in the footsteps of your Divine Son to reach the heavenly Jerusalem where a stormless eternity awaits us. Amen.

The Most Reverend Maurice Schexnayder
Second Bishop of Lafayette
